

What are your agency's social workers reading?

Learning Tools Your Clinical Program Needs

As a key player in the continuum of services for vulnerable populations, you need expert knowledge and comprehensive tools for optimal service delivery. Whether you are a practitioner, administrator, researcher, or policy analyst, you will find Families in Society is essential for strengthening your agency's performance and quality improvement efforts, program measures and outcomes, and professional development resources.

Now in its 91st year, Families in Society is a quarterly, nonprofit professional journal offering exemplary information on the design, delivery, and evaluation of social services. A trusted forum for exploring the art and science of social work, Families in Society offers vital information on significant trends and techniques.

Published by the Alliance for Children and Families, Families in Society can help you and your staff keep up-to-date, learn from the innovators, and earn continuing education credits. And on your terms, schedule, and budget.

Online for Your Convenience

From the Internet, your agency staff can—

- Search archives of 3,500+ articles spanning 30 years
- Explore compiled collections on pivotal topics
- Preview Web-only and upcoming print articles
- Receive newsworthy e-alerts, newsletters, and year-end archives on CD-ROM
- Advance professional development through online continuing education
- Connect through Web meetings, Weblogs and other online forums

Get Started Today!

Find 2010 subscription info at www.FamiliesInSociety.org

Special "hardship rate" available:
20% discount for online subscriptions!

www.FamiliesInSociety.org

FAMILIES IN SOCIETY

The Journal of Contemporary Social Services

414-359-1040 ext. 6522 | www.FamiliesInSociety.org

The Ultimate Agency Advantage

11700 West Lake Park Dr., Milwaukee, WI 53224