

What is your social work department reading?

Learning Tools Your Academic Program Needs

An online institutional subscription provides access for unlimited users in your department. It's like having individual subscriptions for everyone in your school.

- Faculty can access free coursepack and e-reserve permissions quickly and easily, download print-quality copies directly from online PDF files... or direct students to articles online
- Students will appreciate their own online access, helping them establish sound professional development habits for their career
- Anyone in your department can research topics throughout our extensive online archive, and join online discussion groups with practicing experts

Online for Your Convenience

From the Internet, your faculty and students can—

- Search archives of 3,000+ articles spanning 25 years
- Explore compiled collections on pivotal topics
- Preview Web-only and upcoming print articles
- Receive newsworthy e-alerts and (optional) year-end archives on CD-ROM
- Advance professional development through online continuing education
- Connect through Web meetings, Weblogs and other online forums
