

About FIS

Families in Society (ISSN: 1044-3894), a publication of the Alliance for Children and Families (www.alliance1.org), is a core journal in social work scholarship and is a trusted forum for human service professionals to explore and share ideas and concepts in the fields of social work and related services. Readers are informed of significant trends and techniques through practice-related articles on research and theory, direct-practice issues, and the delivery and management of services. FIS is one of only five journals that routinely comprise the "core of the social work journal network" with exemplary information on social work education and research.<sup>1</sup> The journal is consistently ranked in the top 20 social work titles for impact factor in the Journal Citation Reports (JCR) Social Science Edition.<sup>2</sup> Publishing at least 60 peer-reviewed articles annually, FIS provides 50% more refereed content than the average of 40 articles within those 20 top-ranking journals.
